ABOUT THE SELF-ASSESSMENT

Before developing specific implementation goals, educators must take stock of which research-based practices are already in place and which practices are lacking or need improvement. This template guides users through a self-reflection process for extended learning time practices implemented throughout all content areas. Users should follow these steps for each principle.

INSTRUCTIONS

- Step 1: Convene a Middle School Matters Leadership team and set aside 1-2 hours for the self-assessment.
- Step 2: Gather all available data (see page 4).
- Step 3: Assess current instructional practices, using data gathered in step 2, and indicate which instructional traits are implemented: a) consistently, b) inconsistently, or c) not at all.

Consult the MSM Field Guide for more information:

https://greatmiddleschools.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/06/4d_FieldGuide_ExtendedLearningTime_July19.pdf

Step 4: Summarize assessment results and determine the level of implementation according to the rubric (adapted from Fixsen, Naoom, Blase, Friedman, & Wallace, 2005).

- 1. No Implementation: No evidence of implementation.
- 2. Exploration: Willingness to implement, but little to no evidence of actual implementation. May be in planning stage.
- 3. Initial Implementation: Evidence indicates that implementation has begun but is largely inconsistent.
- 4. Full Implementation: Strong evidence of implementation of all or most of the traits and practices.
- 5. Sustainability: Strong evidence of implementation with processes in place for continued implementation in the future.

NEXT STEPS: GOAL SETTING AND ACTION PLANNING

After conducting this self-assessment, select a few key principles to focus on for the upcoming school year. Using the MSMI Action Plan Template (https://greatmiddleschools.org/resources/action-plan-templates/), develop measurable goals with specific action steps and deadlines for each chosen principle.

Principle 1: A	Principle 1: Align the Extended Learning Time (ELT) program academically with the school day.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 1: Use ELT program coordinators to develop relationships and maintain ongoing communication between schools and the ELT program about student academic performance and personal and social issues.
			a) The ELT coordinator communicates regularly with the school staff (at least twice per grading period).
			b) The ELT coordinator works with the regular school staff to determine student needs (academic, behavioral, personal, social).
			c) The ELT coordinator works with the regular school staff to follow up on student progress (academic, behavioral, personal, and social needs) for students participating in the ELT program.
			d) The ELT program and the regular program (including teachers, counselors, and school leaders) share information about students.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 2: Designate a school staff person to coordinate communication with ELT programs.
			a) A designated school staff person is the first point of contact for the ELT program.
			b) The designated staff person works to ensure that the ELT instruction aligns with school goals.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 3: Connect ELT instruction to school instruction by identifying school goals and learning objectives.
			a) ELT instructional activities are prioritized around activities aligned with school and district goals.
			b) ELT instruction includes skills that can support students in the regular school day (study skills, taking notes, developing an outline, learning how to plan).
			c) ELT instruction is coordinated with instruction during the school day.
			d) Field trips or cultural activities that are part of the ELT program connect to what students learn during the regular school day.

Principle 1: A	Principle 1: Align the Extended Learning Time (ELT) program academically with the school day.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 4: Coordinate with the school to identify staff for ELT programs.
			a) When funding is available, effective teachers from the school are hired to serve as ELT instructors.
			b) ELT instructors are selected to maximize academic gains for participating students.
			c) The ELT coordinator and ELT staff have prior experience in improving student academic achievement.

Principle 2: N	Principle 2: Maximize student participation and attendance.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 1: Design program features to meet the needs and preferences of students and parents.
			a) The ELT program collects data from students and parents to determine their needs for ELT program participation (factors to include in a survey are location, transportation, timing, length, program offerings, and frequency of services).
			b) ELT program features are designed based on a needs assessment of student and parent needs.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 2: Promote awareness of the ELT program within schools and to parents.
			a) The ELT program is promoted within schools and to parents and the community (e.g., websites, flyers distributed at parent meetings, notices on school bulletin boards or in school newsletters, e-mail, social media, word of mouth).
			b) The ELT program coordinator works with the regular school program to promote program participation (e.g., teacher reminds students at the end of the day).
			c) Regular school day teachers and principals refer students and their parents to the ELT program to meet student achievement or other goals.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 3: Use attendance data to identify students facing difficulties in attending the program.
			a) The ELT coordinator systematically collects data on student attendance.
			b) The ELT coordinator follows up with the regular school staff to determine whether low- attending students in the ELT program also have low attendance to the regular school day.
			c) The ELT coordinator works with the regular school staff to contact parents and get them to encourage student attendance.
			d) The ELT coordinator includes incentives, positive reinforcement, or privileges to encourage regular attendance.

Principle 2: N	Principle 2: Maximize student participation and attendance.

Principle 3: A	Principle 3: Adapt instruction to individual and small group needs.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 1: Use formal and informal assessment to inform academic instruction.
			a) ELT instructors assess and document student academic progress on a regular basis and modify instruction accordingly.
			b) ELT instructors use assessments administered to students during the school day to individualize instruction.
			c) Instructional modifications are made to adapt the content, pace, and approach during ELT instruction, based on student needs.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 2: Break students into small groups and use one-on-one tutoring if possible.
			a) The ELT program includes one-on-one tutoring.
			b) The ELT program offers opportunities for students to work in small groups (three to nine students).
			c) he ELT program offers opportunities for students to work independently.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 3: Provide professional development and ongoing instructional support to ELT instructors.
			a) Professional development is provided to ELT teachers to improve their ability to adapt instruction to meet the individual needs of their students.
			b) ELT teachers have the opportunity to participate in school and district professional development opportunities.
			c) ELT coordinators discuss opportunities for professional development with the ELT staff on a regular basis.
			d) Regular school teachers and leaders involve ELT teachers and the ELT coordinator in training and professional development opportunities.

Principle 4: P	Principle 4: Provide engaging learning experiences.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 1: Make learning relevant by incorporating practical examples and connecting instruction to student interests and experiences.
			a) The ELT program makes learning relevant by incorporating practical examples during instruction.
			b) The ELT program makes learning relevant by connecting instruction to student interests and experiences.
			c) The ELT program uses tools or materials that students can relate to.
			d) The ELT program makes learning more meaningful by integrating academic content into an overarching program theme or final project.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 2: Make learning active through opportunities for collaborative learning and hands-on academic activities.
			a) ELT teachers encourage students to collaborate with others during learning activities, including solving problems together.
			b) ELT teachers provide opportunities for students to role-play or actively participate in other ways.
			c) ELT teachers provide hands-on learning opportunities during academic activities.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 3: Build adult-student relationships among ELT program participants.
			a) The ELT program provides field trips or other activities to engage students and build positive adult-student relationships.
			b) ELT instructors build rapport with students by getting to know their interests and relating the academic content to the areas of interest.
			c) The ELT program hires staff members with background and interests that complement that of students.
			d) The ELT program includes relationship-building activities for students and staff members to get to know one another and work to improve outcomes.

Principle 5: A	Principle 5: Assess program performance and use the results for program improvement.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 1: Develop an evaluation plan for ELT programs.
			a) The ELT program has an evaluation plan.
			b) The evaluation plan includes objectives, research questions, and data collection and analysis processes.
			c) The evaluation plan includes information about outcomes that will be used in the evaluation, the data collected to measure those outcomes, and how the data will be collected.
			d) The evaluation plan includes a timeline for carrying out the evaluation and how the results will be disseminated and used.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 2: Collect program and student performance data.
			a) Program implementation data are collected for the evaluation.
			b) Student outcome data are collected for the evaluation.
			c) Feedback from other stakeholders regarding satisfaction with the program is collected for the evaluation.
			d) Program activity data are collected to understand implementation and inform program improvement.
			e) The ELT coordinator is a lead in program monitoring.

Principle 5: A	Principle 5: Assess program performance and use the results for program improvement.
Consistently	Inconsistently	Not at All	Practice 3: Analyze the data and use findings for program improvement.
			a) The regular school principal, leadership team, and staff review the data on ELT implementation, student outcomes, and satisfaction to improve the ELT program.
			b) The school compares the ELT program plan with the evaluation report to determine inconsistency or patterns in data that suggest areas for improvement.
			c) Evaluation results are shared and discussed between the regular school and the ELT program to encourage growth and improvement.
			d) The regular school staff and the ELT coordinator develop strategies for any areas of concern from the evaluation.
